

Please support me in my challenge:

Fibrodysplasia Ossificans Progressiva (FOP) is a disorder that turns children into human statues: a healthy mind locked inside a frozen body. Over time, connective tissues such as tendons and ligaments are gradually replaced by bone. At present there is no treatment or cure: but there is HOPE. There are clinical trials underway, and the excellent research team at Oxford University are researching into further ways to beat this cruel disease.

Please help FOP Friends to support the excellent research team at Oxford, and the people living with FOP and their families.

Gift Aid your donation!

Please make your donation go even further by GiftAiding it! We can claim back 25p for every pound you sponsor. It really makes a difference!

We who have given our names and addresses below and who have ticked the box entitled 'GiftAid' would like 'FOP Friends' to reclaim tax on the donation. We understand that we must pay income tax or capital gains tax equal to the 25% 'FOP Friends' will claim on the donation.

Name	Address	£ Sponsored	GiftAid?	Collected	Please keep me updated with occasional news

FOP Friends takes your privacy seriously. We will only process your information where you have authorised us to collect GiftAid on your behalf, or where you have requested to receive information about FOP Friends and our work. If you would like to change your preference at any time, please email info@fopfriends.com. For further information, please visit our website.

Name	Address	£ Sponsored	Gift Aid?	Collected	Please keep me updated with occasional news

FOP Friends takes your privacy seriously. We will only process your information where you have authorised us to collect GiftAid on your behalf, or where you have requested to receive information about FOP Friends and our work. If you would like to change your preference at any time, please email info@fopfriends.com. For further information, please visit our website.